

2006 HURRICAN SEASON FOR ST. KITTS AND NEVIS

The 2006 hurricane season was a quiet one for St. Kitts and Nevis. The islands were not impacted by any hurricanes.

The average rainfall for the season was 5.98 inches.

On 19th October 2006, flash flooding produced 5.4 inches of rainfall in a six-hour period. The torrential rainfall produced limited disruption to daily activities and some damage to a few roads.

Rainfall as measured at the airport is given in the graph below.

